To whom it may concern,

Hippolyte Jacque worked under my direct supervision at Kering group within the Digital Communication department for a one-month period as a webmaster to help us for the launch of our new corporate website Kering.com.

Hippolyte is a hard-working solution-oriented person who understands exactly what a project is all about from the outset, and how to get it done quickly and effectively.

On the interpersonal side, Hippolyte had a great can-do attitude; he has always been an absolute joy to work with. As a true team player, he performed as an integrated team member very quickly.

In summary, I can strongly recommend Hippolyte Jacque as a hard-working and dedicated developer. I have no doubt that he will prove an asset to any organization.

Sincerely,

Marylene Durieu
Digital Project Manager
